

JAVA PROJECT

SPORTS STATS APPLICATION

Abstract:

The project is about building an Android Application which fetches data of selected sports from a particular website and based on the statistics of wins and losses predicts which team of the two selected team will win if they play a match against each other.